Lise Curry Art Finds PRESENTS

ON COMMON GROUND MY WORLD WITHIN AND WITHOUT

A premier exhibition featuring art works in painting, papercutting, photography and sculpture by 14 artists hailing from 3 continents, all with their special take on the world.

AT: The Prince George Gallery
15 East 27th Street (Fifth & Madison)
New York, NY

DATES: November 7-December 31, 2008
Reception: Friday, November 7 – 6-8 pm
Gallery hours: Tuesday-Saturday, 12-5 pm

An inveterate collector who became, as fate dictated, a private art dealer, Curry felt strongly impelled to bring to a larger audience the works of artists who have caught her eye and won her total admiration. This first show assembles artists very much in her radar.

The exhibition was further inspired by the work of Common Ground www.commonground.org, whose mission is to end homelessness through affordable housing, outreach and prevention. Part of the proceeds will go to Common Ground.

The artists and their works were selected with a view to broadening our perceptions through their singular vision, be it introspective or extroverted, bucolic or urban, figurative or conceptual. An underlying passion illuminates them all.
